

HKSTP X BIVF Co-Incubation Programme

To turn biomedical breakthroughs into life-changing impacts for patients and society, we provide vital support at the most critical stage for biotech startups to expand globally.

Hong Kong Science and Technology Parks Corporation (HKSTP) partners with Boehringer Ingelheim Venture Fund Limited (BIVF) to scale the next-gen biotech innovations to tackle the world's biggest healthcare challenges.

We are committed to co-incubate more biotech startups to advance the R&D for infectious diseases and immunology.

Financial Aid Package

- ▶ Up to HKD 6 million funding support with upfront grant to cover regulatory activities

Co-working Environment

- ▶ World-class translational facilities

Business Support

- ▶ Connect with the biotech industry leaders
- ▶ Drive global exposures in the biotech industry with exhibitions, events and other promotional activities

Mentorship and Coaching

- ▶ One-on-One coaching and mentorship
- ▶ Professional assessment on key research milestones

Professional Advisory

- ▶ Expert guidance on research and development, manufacturing, and market strategy, etc.
- ▶ Investment insights

Investment Network and Strategic Partners

- ▶ Access to BIVF's extensive biotech funding network and opportunities in the Greater Bay Area (GBA)

FOCUS AREA

Infectious Diseases and Immunology

TARGET COMPANIES

Early-stage Biotech Startups / University Spin-off Teams

CONTACT

HKSTP Incubio Team

+852 2629 6928

incubio@hkstp.org

www.hkstp.org